Questions for Respondents

The FASB staff invites individuals and organizations to comment on the content in this proposed GAAP Taxonomy Implementation Guide (Guide) for the GAAP Financial Reporting Taxonomy and the SEC Reporting Taxonomy (collectively referred to as the “GAAP Taxonomy”) and, in particular, on the questions below. Respondents need not comment on all of the questions.

Comments are requested from those who agree with the content and those who disagree with the content. Comments are most helpful if they identify and clearly explain the issue or question to which they relate. Those who disagree are asked to describe their suggested alternative(s), supported by specific reasoning and examples, if possible.

1. Do you agree the examples provide sufficient information to apply the GAAP Taxonomy elements and modeling for the reporting of leases under Topic 842? If not, why are they not sufficient?
2. Are there other examples for the reporting of leases under Topic 842 that would be beneficial to include in the Guide? If yes, what are they?
3. Do you agree that the modeling structure within the GAAP Taxonomy for the reporting of leases under Topic 842 facilitates data consumption and improves comparability? If not, why not?
4. Do you agree that the Guide addresses common reporting practices for the reporting of leases under Topic 842? If not, what common reporting practices are not included?
5. Are there difficulties, challenges, or unintended consequences in applying the modeling structure for the reporting of leases under Topic 842 as illustrated in the Guide? If yes, what are they?
6. Is there another approach that would provide a better modeling structure for the reporting of leases under Topic 842? If yes, what alternative would you propose?

Proposed GAAP Taxonomy Implementation Guide on Leases under Topic 842

Overview

The purpose of this proposed Guide is to demonstrate the modeling for reporting of leases under Topic 842. These examples are not intended to encompass all the potential modeling configurations or to dictate the appearance and structure of an entity's extension taxonomy or its financial statements. The examples are provided to help users of the GAAP Taxonomy understand how the modeling for leases under Topic 842 is structured within the GAAP Taxonomy. The examples are based on the assumption that an entity meets the criteria for reporting leases under Topic 842 under Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) and/or U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) authoritative literature. In addition, the reported line items within the examples do not include all reporting requirements and represent only partial disclosures and statements for illustrative purposes.

While constituents may find the information in the Guide useful, users looking for guidance to conform to SEC eXtensible Business Reporting Language (XBRL) filing requirements should look to the SEC EDGAR Filer Manual and other information provided on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov/structureddata.

This Guide focuses on detail tagging only (Level 4); it does not include elements for text blocks, policy text blocks, and table text blocks (Levels 1 –3).

- (5) Values reported in XBRL are generally entered as positive, with the exception of certain concepts such as net income (loss) or gain (loss).
- (6) Preferred Labels (Figure x.3 in each example) are the labels created and used by the company to show the line item captions in its financial statements.
- (7) Additional information for values reported using extensible enumerations can be found in the GAAP Taxonomy Implementation Guide, Extensible Enumerations: A Guide for Preparers.

Section 1: Overview of Modeling

In modeling the lease disclosure requirements within the GAAP Taxonomy, the following characteristics—lessee/lessor, lease type, and leases commenced—have been incorporated into the primary line items. The description characteristics (for example, option to extend, term of contract, etc.) for leases not yet commenced have also been incorporated into the primary line items. These characteristics are not intended to be conveyed dimensionally. Dimensionalization may be used if the lessee or lessor disclose its leases by a particular characteristic, such as geography, which is already included within the GAAP Taxonomy. In this case, dimensionalization is intended for modeling unrecorded obligations for leases not yet commenced, which is included with the modeling for commitments. This modeling consists of the primary line-item element for the unrecorded unconditional purchase obligation and the dimension to convey the type of lease not yet commenced (for example, operating or financing).

In the case of Example 1, Booleans include “[true false]” as part of the standard label to indicate that it is a Boolean.

Examples 3a and 3b illustrate the lessee's operating lease reconciliation of the amount of undiscounted cash flows reported in the notes to the financial statements to the operating lease liabilities recognized in both unclassified and classified statements of financial position. The element “Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, to be Paid” (L41) is the sum of “Operating Lease, Liability” (L42) and the “Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, Undiscounted Excess Amount” (L44) even though in the presentation, “Operating Lease, Liability” (L42) is subtracted from “Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, to be Paid” (L41). All three elements are modeled as monetaryItemType, credit, and instant. The calculation for “Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, to be Paid” (L41) is structured as follows:

Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, to be Paid
→ Operating Lease, Liability
→ Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, Undiscounted Excess Amount

“Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, Undiscounted Excess Amount” (L44) is modeled as a component of “Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, to be Paid” (L41) along with the reported value for “Operating Lease, Liability” (L42). A positive value reported with “Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, Undiscounted Excess Amount” (L44) indicates an excess. In the XBRL calculation linkbase, a credit cannot be subtracted from another credit—the two can only be summed together. Please refer to the Notes section of Example 3a for further explanation.

In Example 3a, 3b, 4, 6 and 7, extensible enumeration elements have been used for location facts to identify which line items in the financial statements an amount is disclosed in when a filer chooses to provide information in the notes to the financial statements in lieu of the financial statements themselves. If the filer separately discloses the information on the face statement, the extensible enumeration element is not needed.

Section 2: Examples of Modeling

Example 1—Lessee Leasing Arrangements—Description

This Example illustrates the modeling for disclosures reporting information about the nature of the lessee's leases, leases that have not yet commenced but that create significant rights and obligations for the lessee, and significant assumptions and judgments made in applying the requirements of the new leases standard.

ABC Company (ABC Co.) has a number of retail stores located within malls throughout New York State that ABC Co. uses to sell electronics. None of the leases meet the criteria to be classified as finance leases and therefore are accounted for as operating leases.^[1] All of the stores have remaining lease terms of between 4^[2] and 7^[3] years. ABC Co. has an option to extend the leases for additional terms ranging between 2^[4] and 5^[5] years.^[6] At lease commencement, ABC Co. determined that it is not reasonably certain to exercise the extension options. Accordingly, the period covered by the options to extend the lease is not recognized as part of the right-of-use assets and lease liabilities.^[7] There are no options to terminate the leases.^[8]^[9] Lease expenses range between $450,000^[10] and $550,000^[11] per year and include a provision for additional lease payments equal to 5% of annual store sales.^[12]^[13] The individual lease contracts do not provide information about the rate implicit in the lease. Accordingly, ABC Co. utilized its incremental borrowing rate for measurement purposes based on information available at the commencement date of each lease, which included but was not limited to, ABC Co.'s credit standing and the collateral represented by the leased stores.^[14] In addition to the current leases, ABC Co. entered into new leases with XYZ Properties, for stores in New Jersey, which will commence in 20X1.^[15] The new leases have lease terms ranging between 3^[16] and 6^[17] years, include lease expenses ranging between $350,000^[18] and $450,000^[19] per year and include extension options.^[20]^[21]

This legend, which is not part of the disclosure, is provided to illustrate the elements associated with values reported.

Notes:

- This example is not intended to be all inclusive. Given that there are significant variations in the types and terms of leases held by a lessee, the information provided by a lessee to meet the requirements of the standard may vary among registrants. In addition, it should be noted that the example includes information that may not be required to be tagged by SEC rules. These facts may be required to be disclosed under GAAP or may be disclosed as a common reporting practice and appear in the registrant's filing. This information is presented for illustrative purposes only.
- This example includes a disclosure of a range of ABC's remaining operating lease terms. The terms are intended to be tagged with “Lessee, Operating Lease, Remaining Lease Term” (L2) and both the “Minimum [Member]” (M1) and “Maximum [Member]” (M2) from the “Statistical Measurement [Axis]” (A1) to represent the range. This disclosure is not the same as the disclosure of the weighted-average remaining lease term required by ASC 842-20-50-4(g)(3). The weighted-average amount is intended to be tagged with “Operating Lease, Weighted Average Remaining Lease Term” (L32) for the operating lease, which is illustrated in Example 2. The “Operating Lease, Weighted Average Remaining Lease Term” (L32) element should not be tagged with a member from the “Statistical Measurement [Axis]” (A1) as it has the weighted average characteristic embedded in the line-item element and it does not represent either a minimum or maximum value. Filers with more than one category of leases (for example, leases on equipment and leases on buildings) should use a dimension to report multiple weighted-average remaining lease terms.

Notes:

- The element “Finance Lease, Principal Payments” (L25) may also be used within the cash flows from financing activities section. The elements “Finance Lease, Interest Payment on Liability” (L26), “Operating Lease, Payments” (L27), and “Variable Lease, Payment” (L28) may also be used within the cash flows from operating activities section in the statement of cash flows.
- This example illustrates the requirements in ASC 842-20-50-4(g)(3) to disclose the weighted-average remaining lease terms segregated between finance and operating leases. The weighted-average remaining lease terms are modeled with the line-item elements: “Finance Lease, Weighted Average Remaining Lease Term” (L31) and “Operating Lease, Weighted Average Remaining Lease Term” (L32). As the weighted average characteristic is modeled in the line-item elements, it is not intended for filers to use “Lessee, Operating Lease, Remaining Lease Term” (L2) and a weighted average member of the “Statistical Measurement [Axis]” (A1) to tag such information. The weighted-average remaining lease term is not the same as the “Lessee, Operating Lease, Remaining Lease Term” (L2) that many filers commonly report as illustrated in Example 1.

Example 3a—Lessee—Maturity of Operating Lease Liabilities and Reconciliation of Operating Lease Liabilities Recognized in the Unclassified Statement of Financial Position

This Example illustrates the modeling for disclosure of the maturity analysis of operating lease liabilities and the reconciliation of the operating lease liabilities reported on the unclassified statement of financial position.

The lease payments are $50 million^[1] annually over a 10-year^[2] weighted-average remaining lease term. The weighted-average discount rate is 5.87 percent.^[3] The maturity schedule below is as of the end of 20X0. Payments are made at the beginning of each year.

Notes:

- “Operating Lease, Liability” (L42) represents the discounted amount that is reconciled to “Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, to be Paid” (L41), the undiscounted amount. As described in the Overview of Modeling Section of this Guide, the calculation that sums up to the value of $450,000,000 is as follows:

+ Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, Undiscounted Excess Amount	Cr	$	87,907,000
+ Operating Lease, Liability	Cr	$	362,093,000
Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, to be Paid	Cr	$	450,000,000
✓ Calculation is consistent.

The elements “Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, to be Paid” (L41) and “Operating Lease, Liability” (L42) are both modeled with credit balance attributes and the values are reported as positive numbers, along with the “Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, Undiscounted Excess Amount” (L44). The second image illustrates why the calculation cannot be summed to the value reported with “Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, Undiscounted Excess Amount” (L44), as it would be as follows:

+ Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, to be Paid	Cr	$	450,000,000
+ Operating Lease, Liability	Cr	$	362,093,000
Lessee, Operating Lease, Liability, Undiscounted Excess Amount	Cr	$	87,907,000
☒ Inconsistent with calculated value $812,093,000

- The element “Operating Lease, Liability, Statement of Financial Position [Extensible Enumeration]” (XL43) may be used when the statement of financial position is unclassified. Additional elements are available when the operating lease liability is classified as current, “Operating Lease, Liability, Current, Statement of Financial Position [Extensible Enumeration]” (XL47), or noncurrent, “Operating Lease, Liability, Noncurrent, Statement of Financial Position [Extensible Enumeration].” See Example 3b for an example of when the noncurrent portion of operating lease liability is separately reported but the current portion is reported within other current liabilities in the statement of financial position.

Example 3b—Lessee—Maturity of Operating Lease Liabilities and Reconciliation of Operating Lease Liabilities Recognized in the Classified Statement of Financial Position

This Example illustrates the modeling for disclosure of the maturity analysis of operating lease liabilities and the reconciliation of the operating lease liabilities reported on the classified statement of financial position. The filer reports the noncurrent lease liabilities separately on the classified statement of financial position. However, the filer chooses to report the current operating lease liabilities within other current liabilities.

The lease payments are $50 million^[1] annually over a 10-year^[2] weighted-average remaining lease term. The weighted-average discount rate is 5.87 percent.^[3] The maturity schedule below is as of the end of 20X0. Payments are made at the beginning of each year.

Notes:

- In order to meet the requirements of ASC 842-20-50-6, the total amount (362,093 thousand) of “Operating Lease, Liability” (L42) is included and tagged in the reconciliation of the undiscounted cash flows to the operating lease liabilities recognized in the statement of financial position. In this example, the filer has decided to report the noncurrent portion separately in the classified statement of financial position; however, it has chosen to include the current operating lease liabilities in the other current liabilities line item. The location of the current operating lease liabilities is tagged using the extensible enumeration element “Operating Lease, Liability, Current, Statement of Financial Position [Extensible Enumeration]” (XL47) with a value of “<http://fasb.org/us-gaap/20X0#OtherLiabilitiesCurrent>.”

Notes:

- If a filer reports the finance lease right-of-use assets with its property, plant , and equipment, the intended modeling is to report the components of the right-of-use assets using the following elements: “Finance Lease, Right-of-Use Asset, before Accumulated Amortization” (L51), “Finance Lease, Right-of-Use Asset, Accumulated Amortization” (L52), and “Finance Lease, Right-of-Use Asset, after Accumulated Amortization” (L53) with the “Long-Lived Tangible Asset [Axis]” (A2) for the specific type of underlying asset.

Notes:

- An extensible enumeration element is used to convey the one category of the unrecorded unconditional purchase obligation. “Unrecorded Unconditional Purchase Obligation, Category [Extensible Enumeration]” (XL57) is used to tag the fact value indicating the category of operating lease not yet commenced. If a filer reports values for more than one category of unrecorded unconditional purchase obligations within the filing in the same reporting date context, then the “Unrecorded Unconditional Purchase Obligation by Category of Item Purchased [Axis]” is intended to be used.
- In addition to the standard labels listed in Figures 5.2 and 5.3, all elements in this example except for “Lessee, Operating Lease, Lease Not yet Commenced, Term of Contract” L59 have terse labels in the Taxonomy which are viewable under the relationship group 842000 for Leases, FASB Accounting Standards Codification® Topic 842. These terse labels include language that specifies that these elements are including leases not yet commenced. For example, “Unrecorded Unconditional Purchase Obligation, to be Paid, Year One” (L60) has terse label of “Unrecorded Unconditional Purchase Obligation, Including Lease Not yet Commenced, to be Paid, Year One.”
